

Matching the mask source closes the internal gap. It does not close the external one.

